TABLE OF

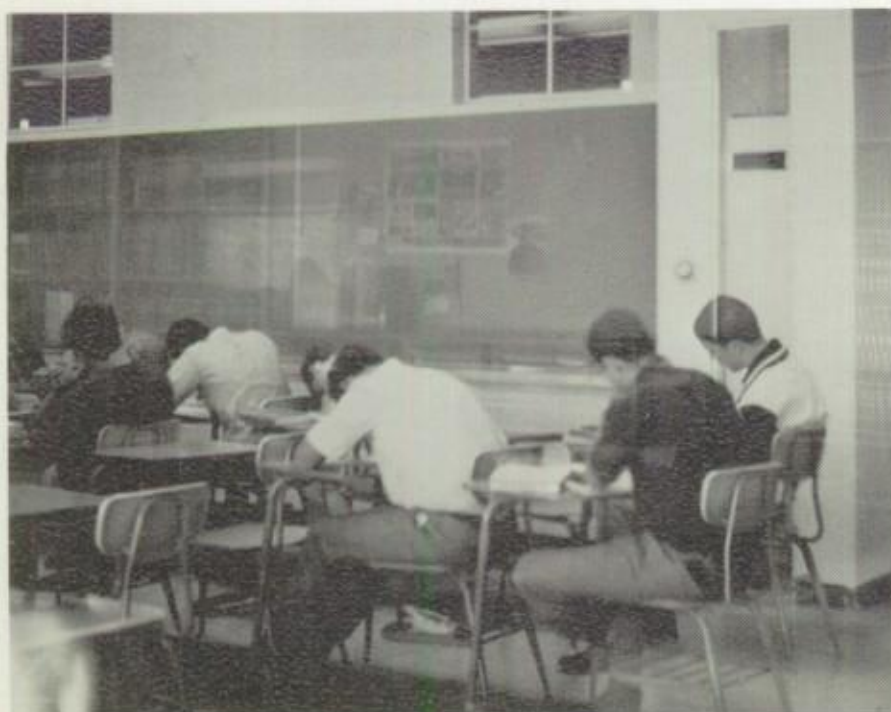

Curriculum . . . 4

The more free Man's mind is, the more he reflects; and the more intensively does he become arranged in closely related systems. Everybody knows that nothing is more impossible than to inhibit the growth of an idea. Applying this in its widest sense, the surest affirmation we can make about the human future is that nothing will ever restrain Man from seeking to think and essay everything to the end.

Natural and Physical Sciences

Science at Servite is extended over a period of three years of study offering the student a choice of Introductory Physical Science, Biology, Chemistry, Physics and the Advanced Chemistry Institute. Students can likewise be selected to be participants in the Science Seminar. These studies combine the latest developments in the substantive and environmental dimensions of science education with the latest developments in the use of laboratory techniques and instrumentation. The goal of science at Servite is to allow young men to use their natural faculties to discover the physical and biological laws and thus come through creation to know and love God the more. The student endowed with faith, therefore, sees science as God revealing Himself in nature. He thus not only experiences in the study of science the joy of intellectual accomplishment, but he also knows another facet of God revealing His love for man.

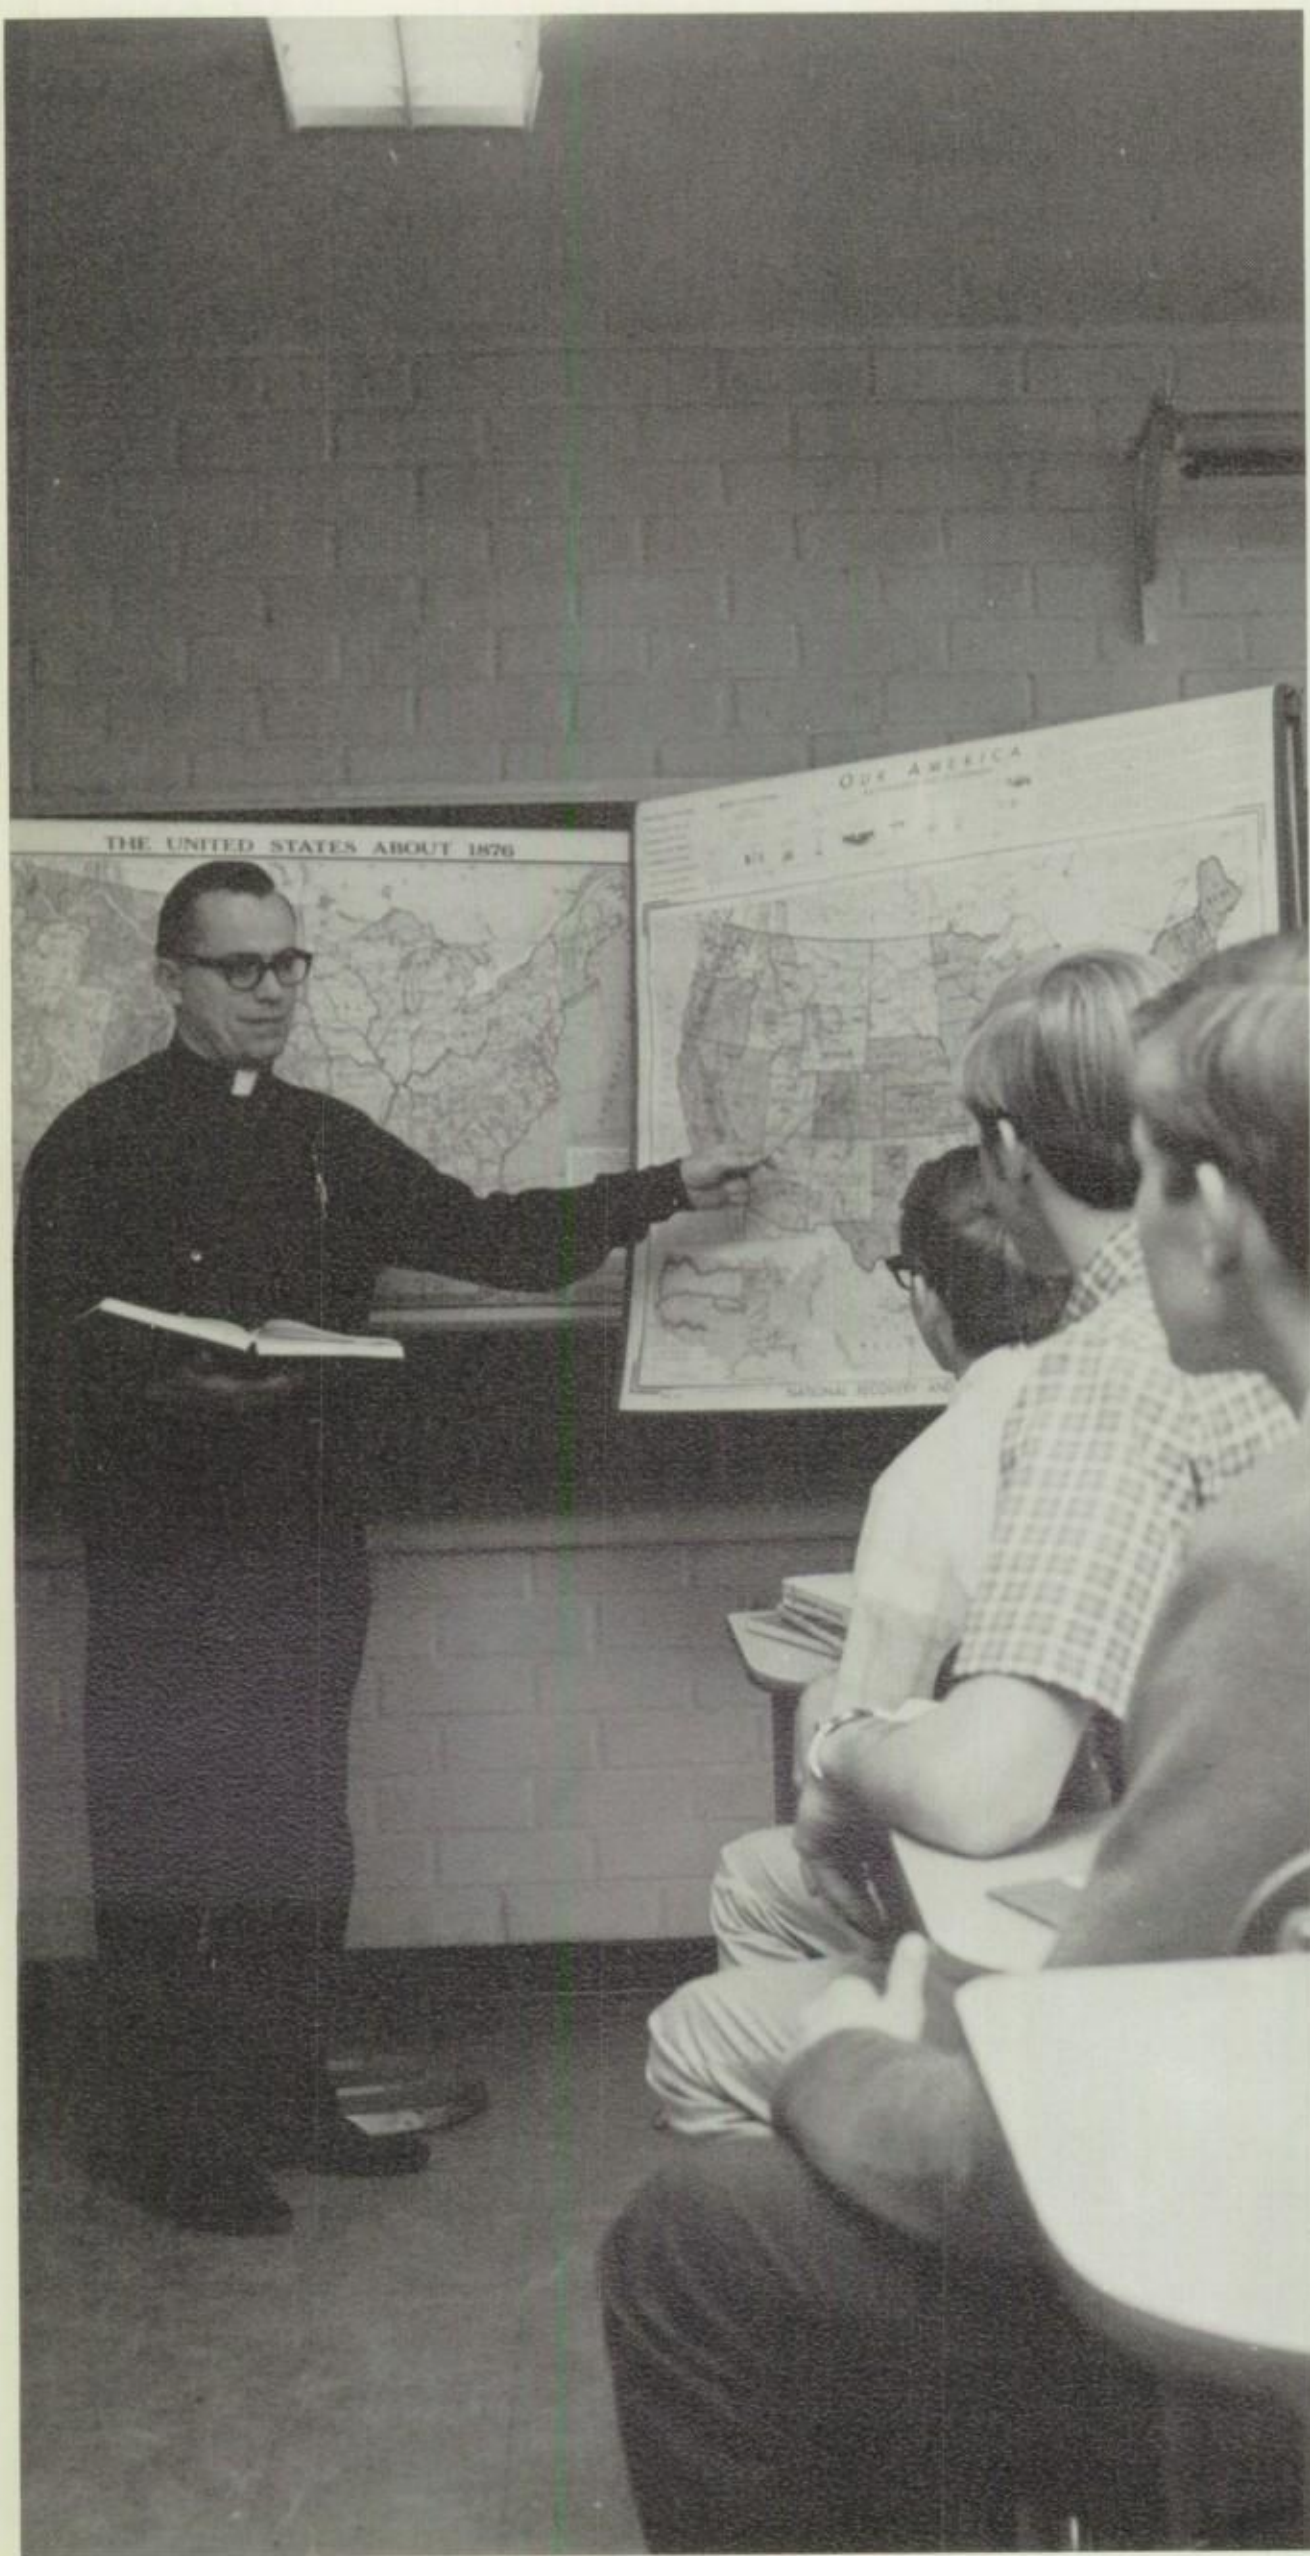

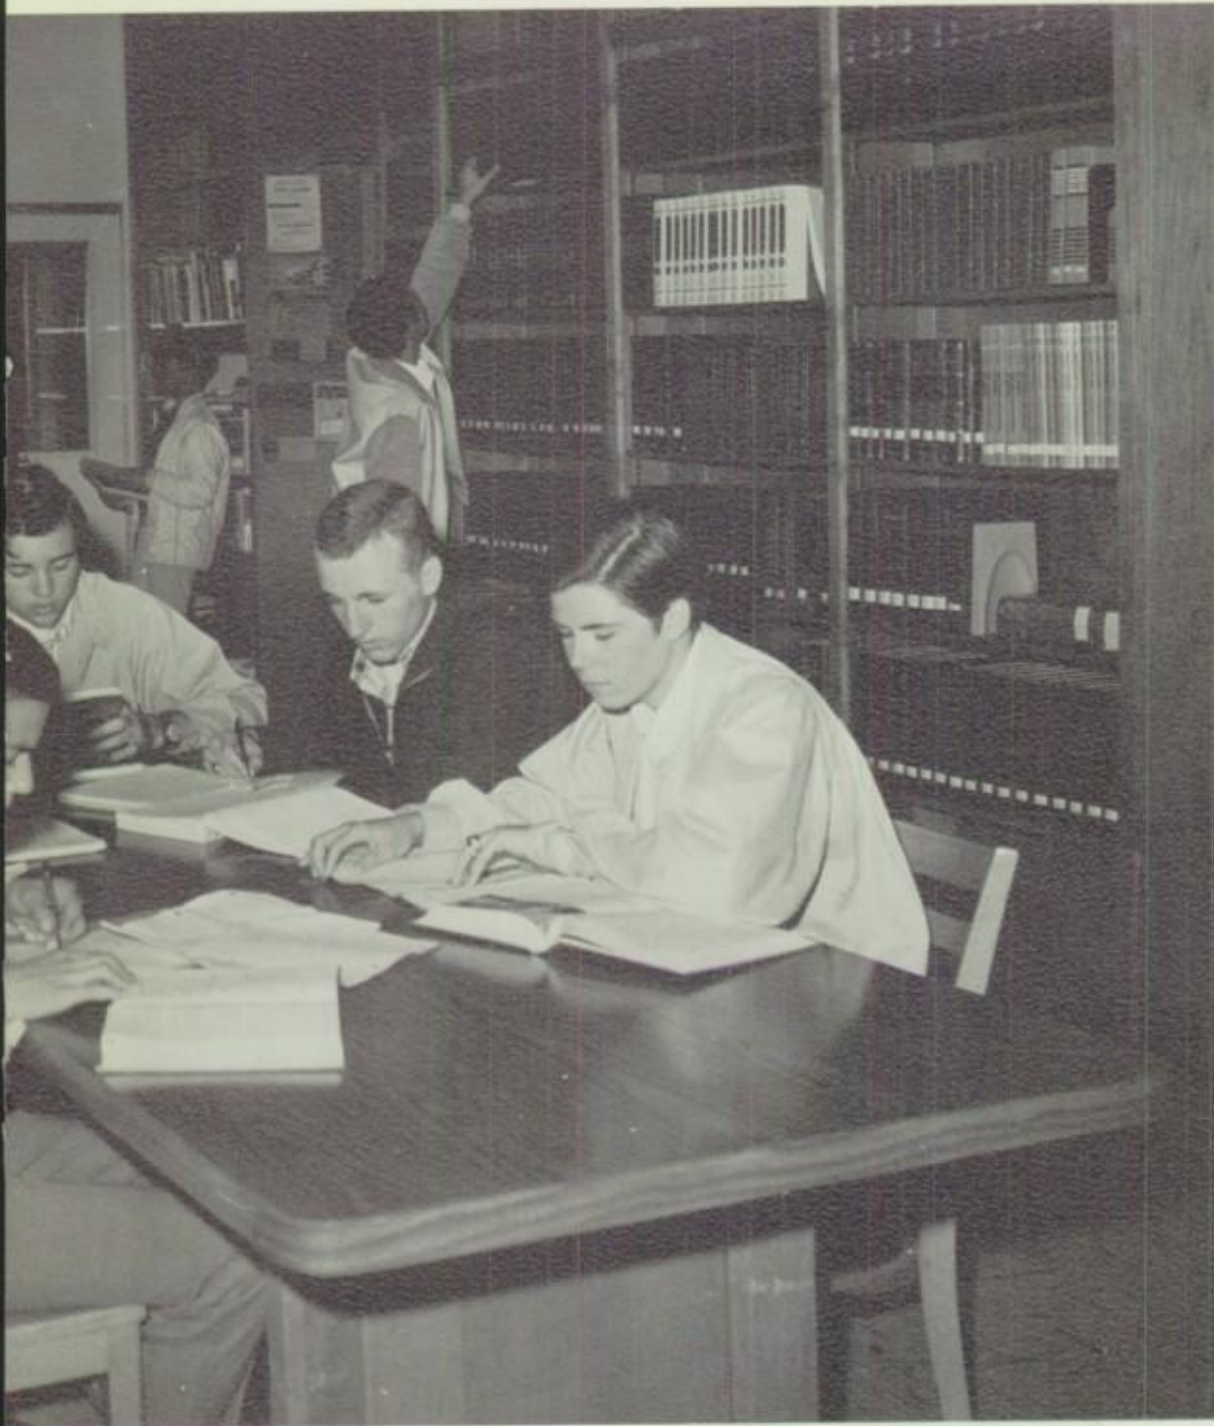

Religion and Counseling

The Religious Studies and activities at Servite, as in any Catholic High School is the "Raison de' Etre" of Catholic Education. Since it is relegated to a sub-standard course in many instances, our purpose here is to make Religion the vital and important position it deserves. Our religious studies are so designed as to give a good background of Christian Life as seen in the lives of Great Persons in the past, be they Biblical, ancient or modern; be they philosophers, peasants, psychologists or saints. The Christian Principles are also studied from the vantage point of literature and science. There are also Liturgical and Missionary activities which the students participate in, to give them the sense of Religious Action they need. Servite, during the past year, also broadened its Counseling Program which provided more opportunities for the department to have private interviews with each Servite student.

Liberal Arts

The Servite High History Department concentrates in the areas of Ancient, Medieval and Modern World History, United States History, Advanced Placement American History, and United States Government. The aims of the department are to give students a solid grounding in the basic issues which have characterized man and his development down through the ages. Contemporary history is also stressed through current event classes and especially through the Great Decisions program.

The English Studies Department offers a five-year-in-four program at Servite for those students who elect Advanced Placement English. Through the studies in literature and language structure the students develop their insights not only to the literature of English speaking peoples, but also their creative abilities at composition.

The Language Department of Servite offers a four year program in Latin, Spanish, and French. Language is communication. Its study entails the skills of communication which are understanding the spoken word, speaking, reading and writing. The primary aim is to help the student attain this language proficiency. To be able to communicate in a foreign language, to participate in a different culture, to read in another literature is a broadening and lasting educational experience, a form of personal fulfillment. Through the study of languages, this department further aims to develop an appreciation of the Christian cultural background and a better knowledge and understanding of other peoples as members of the family of nations.

Seniors 1969

The school year of 1968-69 marks the termination of the Senior class' participation in Servite life. Certainly the last four years were not wasted. Much growth and learning has taken place. But now, the Seniors must depart Servite High School and look to the future, hopefully to an intense, meaningful life. Perhaps from the words in the following passage of Ecclesiastes, each senior may find the strength to break past ties and move forward.

"There is a season for everything, a time for every occupation under heaven:

A time for planting, a time for uprooting what has been planted.

A time for tears, a time for laughter;

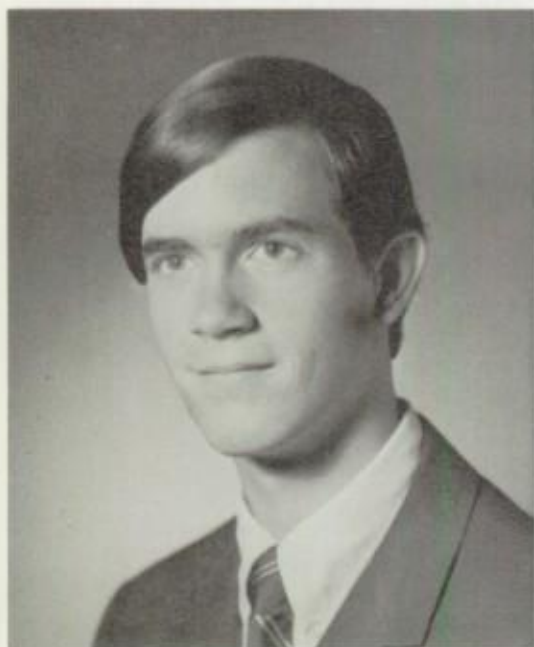

A time for searching, a time for losing;

A time for keeping, a time for throwing away."

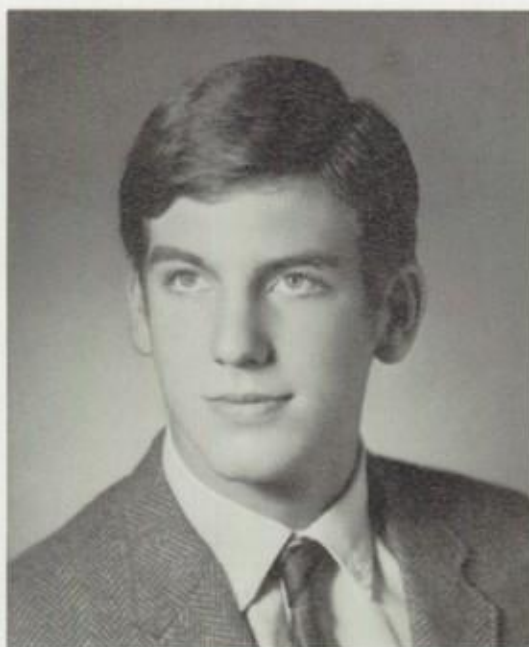

Each senior who receives that hard-won diploma at the close of his high school education knows that he faces a much more challenging battle ahead. It is hoped that Servite has instilled in him the armor with which to meet his new life head on and to conquer its difficulties.

SERVITE ATHLETICS

SERVITE ATHLETE OF THE YEAR

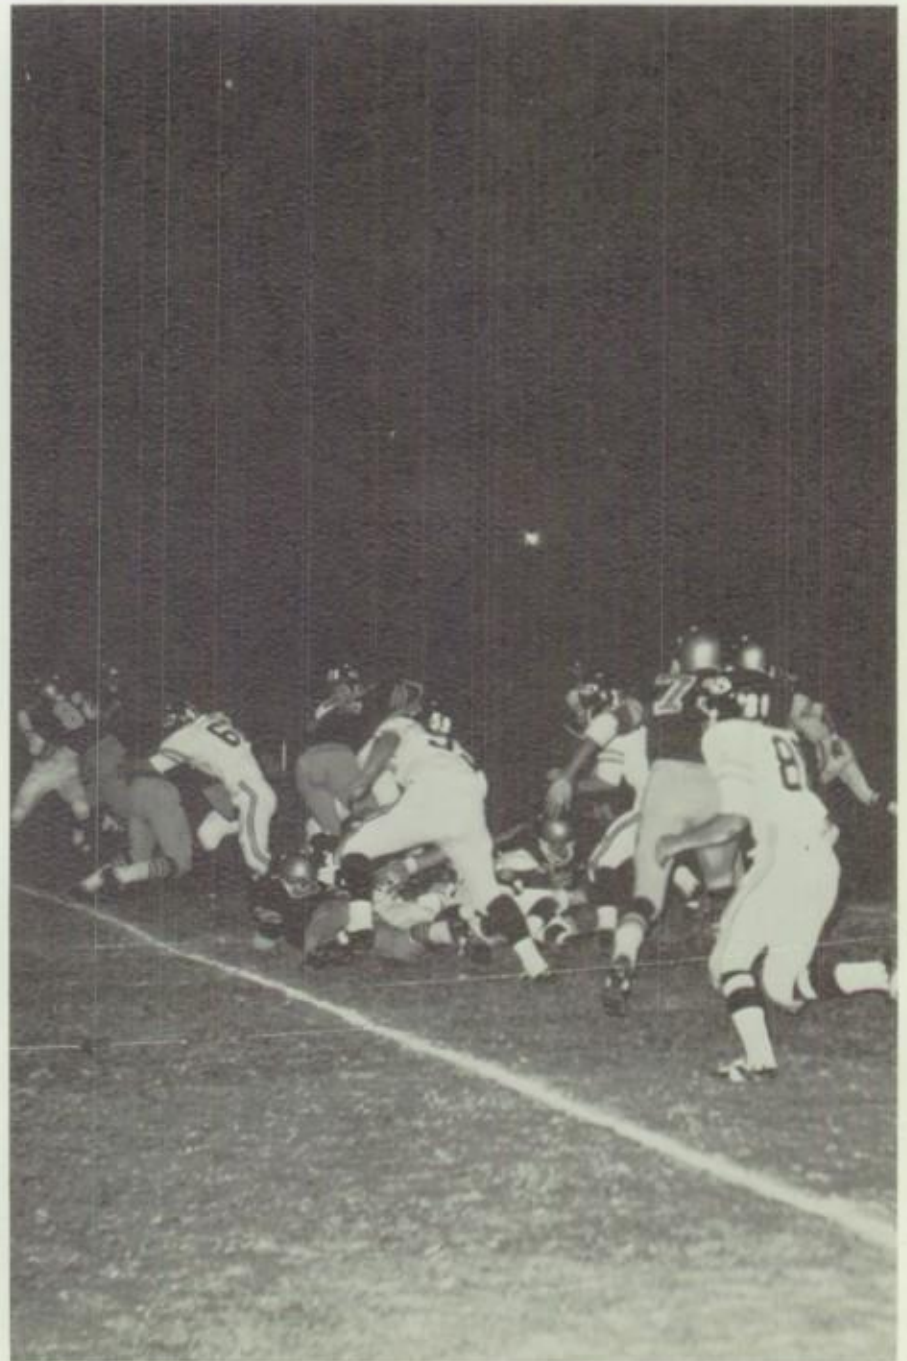

Steve Fate has been chosen as this year's ATHLETE OF THE YEAR. This honor is conferred on a senior who, in the judgment of the principal, athletic director and coaches, best exemplifies the ideas of good sportsmanship at Servite. Steve also qualifies for this honor by parallel honors he has received in the varsity athletics that he has participated in this year, being a member of the varsity football, basketball and baseball teams. In football he was named team captain, most valuable player, all-league, all-city, and all-county. In basketball Steve was named to the all-league and all-city teams.

Although not the most successful season in Servite football history, this year's team still strived to play the brand of football Servite is known for. The season was highlighted by the first pre-league game against Santa Barbara, and the Mater Dei game at La Palma Park which saw Servite, down 28 to 7 with four minutes to go, come back and score two touchdowns and almost a third to nearly win the game.

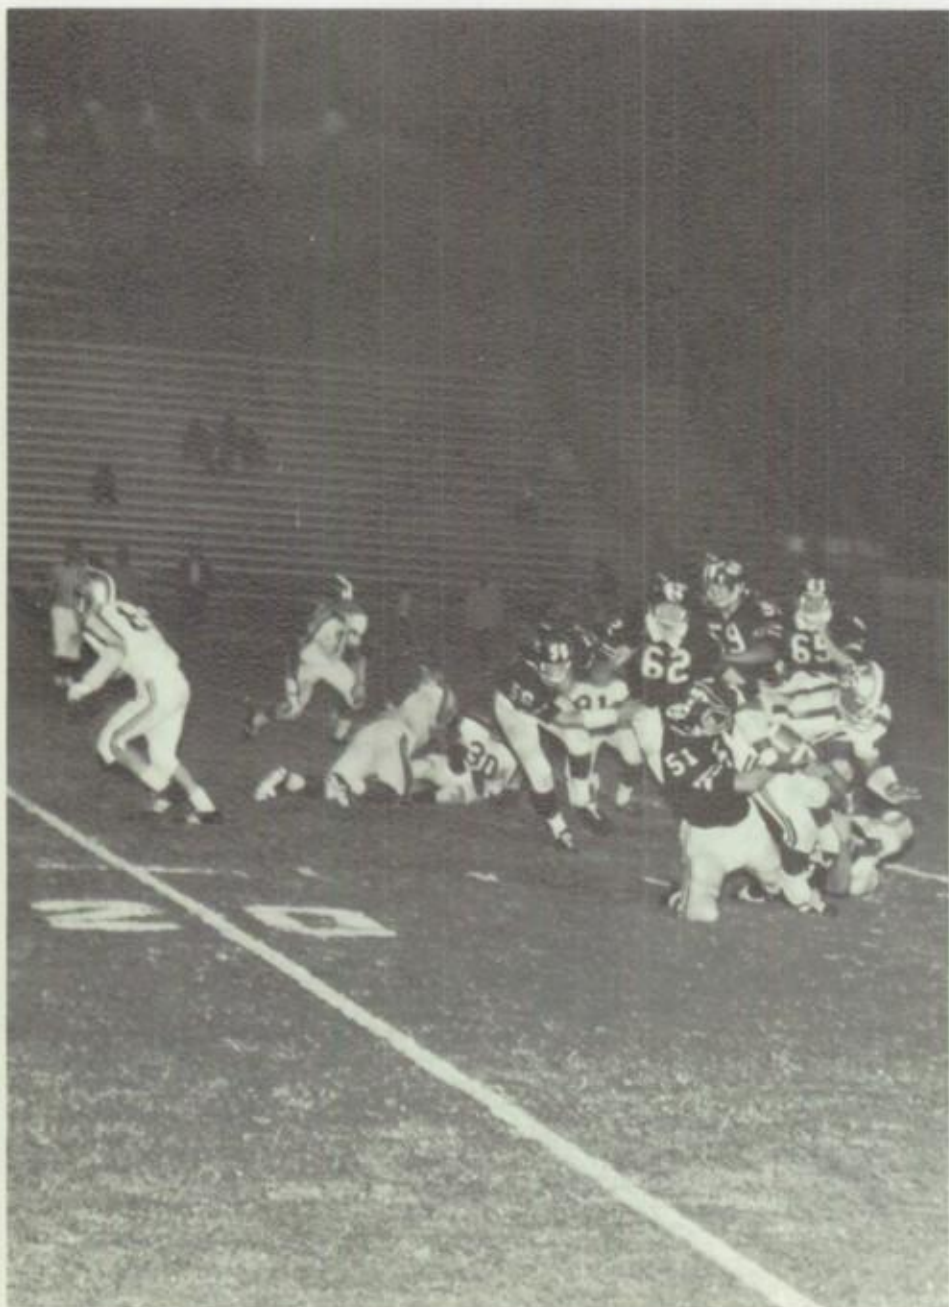

Co-captains for the year were seniors Steve Fate, Tom Matella and Jim Miller. Voted the most valuable player for the season was Steve Fate. Fate was starting quarterback and safety. He was chosen all-league, all-city and all-county. Jim Miller was the recipient of the George M. Dena Perpetual Trophy Award. Also receiving all-league honors were senior Guy Wilson and junior Ken Haynes. Senior Rob Aschenbrenner was also chosen to the all-city team.

Although more noted for his running ability, Ken Haynes was also a good receiver.

THE ORGANIZATION OF SCHOOL ACTIVITIES
PROMOTES STUDENT PARTICIPATION

The Student Council of 1968-69 centered around the concept of involvement in many well directed efforts to activate the student body. The forethought on the part of A. S. B. President Bob Faust, under the guidance of Father Duplessis, saw the formation of productive committees and admittance of new clubs. Student Council concern activated newer and broader communication of ideas between students and faculty, and organization of student suggestions. A Council committee also revised the new student handbook under the direction of Father Motzko and the cooperation of the administration and faculty.

In football, Senior Honors won the championship with a 6-0 victory over Junior 105. Senior Honors also won the basketball crown after a mid-season scare. In overall intramural competition, Senior Honors proved to be the toughest foe as they lost only 3 games total, in all sports, and those by narrow margins.

The action shown here is from the Junior-Senior All-Star football game which saw the Juniors upset the Seniors 12-7. The Senior varsity football players, however, retaliated with a 35-0 victory over the Junior class.
